

Lister Windows Design System

The visual language of the UK's leading trade manufacturer — extracted from the public website and the official Sheerline order-form artwork. Blue for authority, gold for action.

Built for the trade.

Listers fabricate and supply windows & doors to installers across the UK — 40 years of manufacturing, NFA-award-winning, and Made in Britain. The identity should always feel dependable, industrial and confident, never decorative.

Personality

- Reliable — fast lead times, no callbacks.
- Industrial & precise — engineered, spec-driven.
- Trade-first — talks installer-to-installer.
- British & proud — Made in Britain, net-zero by 2030.

The 30-second read

A confident royal blue carries almost everything — frames, headers, structure. A single saturated gold is the brand's spark: it marks the action, the bar under the wordmark, the thing to do next. White space keeps it clean and professional.

The wordmark

The primary mark is the LISTERS wordmark: a heavy grotesque set in white inside a solid blue panel, anchored by a gold bar. The blue panel is the brand's container; the gold bar is its signature.

REVERSED · ON BLUE

Clear space & minimum size

- Clear space on all sides = the height of the gold bar.
- Digital min width 96px; print min width 25mm.
- Full-colour on light; reverse to white wordmark on blue.
- Never re-key the colours or re-type the wordmark.

Sub-brand wordmarks

Sheerline (navy) pairs with a flowing script for its ranges. Reserve the script for range names only.

Colour in use — proportion

Ratio rule of thumb: $\approx 70\%$ blue & white, $\approx 20\%$ neutral/grey, $\approx 10\%$ gold. Reserve gold for calls-to-action, the logo bar, and key header bands.

Clean, structural sans

A confident grotesque: heavy for the wordmark & headlines, regular for body. The open-source stack below matches that voice.
